Boston college students visit AUK

KUWAIT CITY, March 21: For the 12th consecutive year, AUK hosted visitors that included 14 political science students along with their professor, Dr Kathleen T. Bailey, an Associate Director of Islamic Civilization & Societies Program.

As an educational trip, this visit aimed to supplement their learning for a course they are enrolled in entitled, Kuwait: Intercultural Diplomacy where they are allowed to practically live life in Kuwait through a series of cultural experiences. The Office of the Dean of Student Affairs and several student volunteers organized their tour around campus by showcasing AUK’s recently completed Student Center and other facilities. Their visit concluded at AUK with a lecture on campus by Samer Khanachet, Group Chief Operating Officer of KIPCO.

In commenting on the significance of this opportunity Dr Bailey said, “They see Kuwait, and they have an idea of what this area of the world is like, and it’s usually a misperception. Then you come to Kuwait, and it’s peaceful and lovely, and people are interested in sharing different ideas. You find that you have much more in common than before.” Dr Bailey also noted the ripple effect this could have as it similarly affects different generations throughout the coming years.

The American University of Kuwait (AUK) is an independent, private, equal opportunity, and co-educational liberal arts institution of higher education. The educational, cultural and administrative structure, methods and standards of AUK are based on the American model of higher learning. The language of instruction is English. KUWAIT CITY, March 21: In a bid to organize the labor market, reduce the number of workers and reform the demographic structure, the Public Authority for Manpower has proposed an integrated concept to approve skilled workers for 100 professions.

According to an informed source, conducting tests for workers in their countries of origin will now become a basic condition for approval of work permits. The policy will be applied gradually, starting with about ten technical professions including electrical work, carpentry, mechanic, iron bending and other industrial related works.

He said Public Authority for Manpower will engage an international company to carry out the test through approved institutions, not academies, in those countries.

The source declared that the specialized company will collaborate with about 5,500 approved institutes across the world, and three of them are operating in Kuwait.

He stressed that the overseas test will reduce the rate of inflow of mar-

Int’l academic contest

Kuwait wins four prizes

KUWAIT CITY, March 21, (KUNA): Kuwait’s Education Ministry has claimed a quartet of awards in an international contest recognizing exceptional feats in academics.

The Kuwaiti students’ victory in the Hamdan Bin Rashid Al Maktoum Award for Distinguished Academic Performance is a testament to how committed the ministry is to education, its assistant undersecretary for educational development Faisal Al-Makseed said in a statement Wednesday.

He touted the event as a highly competitive affair in which a myriad of academic success stories were put on display, noting that a trio of Kuwaiti contestants bagged prizes.

Another Kuwaiti participant, Dr Majid Al-Ali, who serves as the director of educational activities at the ministry, took home an award for best academic research.

Since its inception in 1998, the UAE-based award encourages initiatives, innovation and excellence in academics.

ginal workers into the country particularly into the labor market.

Meanwhile, the Kuwait Banking Association (KBA) has hired the services of Oliver Wyman Company to provide the bank business management consultations to evaluate the present work strategy of the bank including the local clientele’s view of the banks, reports Al-Rai daily.

Oliver Wyman helps companies develop corporate strategies to identify and realize opportunities for growth. Whether evaluating a merger, acquisition, investment, or divestiture opportunity.

The sources pointed out the targeted strategy include defining the sources of worry for the clients in addition to supplying the banks with detailed perspective they need to make decisions in any business environment and ways to find solutions to such.

The sources added, the targeted strategy includes the ways to raise the level of the baking performance in addition to enhancing the communication of the banks with the clients.

The sources went on to say in spite of the social activities carried out by the banks in terms of enhancing the national economy and adopting sustainable policy, they are still in need of re-evaluating their performance and finding ways to develop their services.
